Halloween is Tomorrow!

It's the end of October, and that means Halloween is finally here! Don't forget to bring your costume to school tomorrow, along with a bag or bucket to collect candy and some decorations for your pumpkin. The afternoon will be filled with fun Halloween activities! The students will decorate pumpkins, watch a musical performance, sing songs by class, play games at the Halloween Carnival, and go trick-or-treating! Wow!

Hello Grade 2 Parents!

Unit 2 is here, and that means new challenges for the Grade 2 class. The students will begin doing much more writing this unit, and they will work on improving their writing structure. The 6+1 Traits of Writing will be used to work on all aspects of their writing in specific lessons that build upon each other.

The students added the final vocabulary words from Unit 1 to our Word Wall. There are now over 70 words on our Word Wall! Above the Word Wall, you can see our Mindful Heart Train. The students have been working hard to earn ESLR tickets, and they have had celebrations for their first two train cars added to the train. The class is trying to spell out Mindful Heart by the end of the school year. I think they can do it!

I want to thank all parents for coming to school for Parent-Teacher Conferences. We had 100% attendance in Grade 2! Parental involvement is very important, and it is wonderful to see how much our parents care about their amazing students!
